

Community Futures Development Corporation
of Middlesex County

PRESS RELEASE

April 30, 2009

MIDDLESEX – WE'RE ON THE WAY

Are you looking for something creative to do on one tank of gas? Are daytrips and weekend retreats your thing? Check out the 2009 “Middlesex – We’re on the Way” tourism guide. Produced by the Community Futures Development Corporation (CFDC), the colourful magazine has over 50 pages of destinations of interest as well as festival and event listings. Specialty shops, markets & bakeries, antiques & collectibles, bed & breakfasts and campgrounds are just a few of the features offering to expand your stay and your daytripping experience. Check out the features in “Middlesex – We’re on the Way” to plan your next adventure.

Copies of “Middlesex – We’re on the Way” will be displayed at travel and tourism information centres and key tourist destinations where vacationers will be “on their way” and may pass through Middlesex County. Our goal is to entice them to stop and enjoy the many amenities we have to offer in our beautiful and diverse county. You can pick up your copy from your local municipal office in Middlesex County. As well, the guide can be picked up from the CFDC office in the Kilworth Business Park, located at 22423 Jefferies Road, Unit 6, located just off Glendon Drive.

If you would like multiple copies of the tourism guide, call CFDC at 519-641-6100 or toll free 1-866-205-1188. Visit www.middlesextourism.ca for more details. Happy daytripping!

-30-

For more information contact:

Community Futures Development Corporation of Middlesex County
Cara Finn, General Manager 519-641-6100 cfinn@cfdcmiddlesex.on.ca